Summary Report

The National Service Scheme (NSS) of Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women (Autonomous), Vaniyambadi organized an Anti-Child Labour Pledge Programme to create awareness about the eradication of child labour and to promote the rights of children to education, safety, and a dignified childhood.

During the programme, students, faculty members, and staff solemnly took the Anti-Child Labour Pledge, affirming their commitment to oppose child labour in all forms and to support initiatives that ensure every child has access to education and equal opportunities. The pledge emphasized the collective responsibility of society in protecting children from exploitation and encouraging their overall development.

The event served as an effective awareness initiative, instilling social responsibility among the participants and reinforcing the importance of building a child labour-free society through active participation and public commitment.

Participants Count: 3282

Learning Outcome of the Program

- The Anti-Child Labour Pledge reinforced the commitment to prevent child exploitation and promote compulsory education.
- The programme encouraged participants to spread awareness and actively support initiatives aimed at eliminating child labour.
