Objectives

- To provide a platform for students to showcase their creativity, confidence, and stage presence through fashion presentation.
- To encourage self-expression and individuality by using fashion as a medium of communication.
- To build appreciation for cultural diversity and inclusivity through different fashion themes.
- To provide experiential learning related to fashion choreography, ramp etiquette, and stage management.
- To create an engaging and energetic environment that celebrates fashion, art, and youth expression.

Summary Report

Rage Walk'26 was a portfolio presentation organized by the III Year Costume Design students, serving as the culmination of their semester's academic work. A total of 15 student designers showcased their creative output, collectively presenting 44 garments that reflected their individual themes, inspirations, and design identities.

The garments demonstrated a strong balance between creativity and technical skill, including fabric selection, pattern development, construction techniques, and surface design. The runway presentation enabled students to translate their academic learning into a professional format, enhancing their understanding of styling, sequencing, and garment presentation.

Overall, Rage Walk'26 proved to be an effective academic and experiential learning activity, providing students with valuable exposure to industry-oriented practices and strengthening their design portfolios while reinforcing the outcomes of the semester curriculum.

Outcome of the Program

- Participants developed confidence, stage presence, and effective body language.
- Students enhanced their creativity and self-expression through fashion and movement.
- Improved personality development and non-verbal communication skills were observed.
- The programme encouraged teamwork, coordination, and discipline among participants.
- Students gained practical exposure to ramp walk techniques and fashion presentation.
