Summary: The PG Department of Business Administration organized a Guest Lecture on "Building High-Performing Teams: Strategies and Challenges" on 13.09.2024 at 10:30 a.m. in the New Seminar Hall. The session was held offline and attended by 70 internal students. Dr. J. Dheeba, Assistant Professor and Head of the Department at Priyadarshini Engineering College, Vaniyambadi, served as the resource person. The objectives of the session included identifying the key characteristics of high-performing teams, analyzing effective team-building strategies, evaluating challenges faced in team development, and developing skills to enhance and sustain team performance. Dr. Dheeba provided valuable insights with real-world examples, making the session highly interactive and practical. The lecture helped students understand the dynamics of teamwork and the importance of leadership and communication in building successful teams. The program was well-received and proved to be highly beneficial for all participants. There were no external participants for this event.

Out Come of the Programme

Students will understand the key qualities that make a team successful. They will learn different strategies to build strong and effective teams. Students will also be able to recognize common challenges teams face and how to overcome them. They will develop important skills like communication, leadership, and teamwork. They will know how to maintain high performance in a team for a long time. Overall, students will feel more confident in working with and leading teams in the future.
