Summary

The Manuscript Writing workshop, conducted by Dr. K. Prabu, Research Coordinator, PG and Research Department of Biochemistry, Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women, Vaniyambadi, on 07.04.2025, aimed to equip participants with the essential skills for academic manuscript writing. During the session, Dr. K. Prabu provided valuable insights into manuscript structure, including sections like the abstract, introduction, results, and conclusion. Emphasis was placed on adhering to journal guidelines, presenting data clearly through tables and figures, and managing references effectively. The workshop also included interactive discussions and practical exercises that helped participants hone their writing skills. By the end of the session, attendees had improved their ability to structure research papers, present data effectively, and properly cite sources, significantly boosting their readiness for academic publishing.

Outcome of the Programme

- Participants gained a clearer understanding of the structure and components of a research manuscript, including effective writing techniques.
- Attendees developed the skills to present research data accurately using visual aids and manage citations appropriately for scholarly work.
