Summary

The School of Computing Sciences organized a one-day seminar on “Recent Trends & Applications of Cyber Security” aimed at creating awareness among students about the growing importance of online safety and digital responsibility. The resource person provided valuable insights into various types of cyber threats, including phishing, malware, identity theft, and data breaches. Students were introduced to essential preventive measures, safe browsing practices, and the importance of strong passwords and data protection.

Outcome of the Programme

1. Students gained awareness about various cyber threats such as phishing, malware, hacking, and identity theft.
2. They understood the importance of cyber security and the need to protect personal and organizational data.
3. Participants learned practical safety measures, including the use of strong passwords, secure networks, and responsible social media usage.
4. The seminar motivated students to develop ethical online behavior and become responsible digital citizens.
5. The session inspired interest in career opportunities and further learning in the field of cyber security and ethical hacking
