Objectives

1. To create awareness about the importance of the Mathematical constant π (pi) and its real-life applications.
2. To develop interest and enthusiasm in Mathematics among students through fun and interactive activities.
3. To enhance students' logical thinking and problem-solving skills through quizzes and Mathematical games.
4. To provide a platform for students to showcase their Mathematical talents through competitions and creative activities.

Summary Report

On 14.04.2026, the PG & Research Department of Mathematics of Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women (Autonomous) organized a one-day Pi Day Celebration. The program aimed to promote interest in mathematics and highlight the importance of the mathematical constant π (pi) and its real-life applications. Various activities such as quizzes, number games and videos on Pi days were conducted to enhance students analytical thinking and problem-solving skills. The event provided a platform for students to showcase their talents, encouraged active participation, and fostered enthusiasm for mathematics.

Outcome of the Program

1. The celebration improved students understanding of the concept of π (pi) and its applications in mathematics and real life.
2. Participation in activities enhanced students analytical thinking, problem-solving, and numerical skills.

3. The program boosted students confidence, communication, and creativity through competitions.
4. The event fostered interest in mathematics and encouraged active participation, teamwork, and collaborative learning.
